Specification of the coding system for the 1998-2005 longitudinal dataset (including the 1998 baseline survey, 2000, 2002, and 2005 follow-up surveys of both survivors and died persons)

Note: please read the following specification BEFORE using this data set.

1. This dataset is derived from the first four waves (1998, 2000, 2002, and 2005) of the Chinese Longitudinal Healthy Longevity Survey (CLHLS). The CLHLS covers 22 out of the 31 provinces in China. This dataset consists of seven components. The first component contains all the information collected in the 1998 baseline survey for 9,093 respondents. The second component contains information collected in the 2000 survey for 4,831 respondents who were re-interviewed in the 2000 survey. The third component includes information collected from the next-of-kin of 3,368 deceased persons who were first interviewed in 1998 but had died before the 2000 follow-up survey. The fourth component is for 2,642 respondents who were first interviewed in 1998 and re-interviewed in 2000 and 2002. The fifth component includes information obtained from the next-of-kin of 1,604 respondents who were first interviewed in 1998, survived at 2000 survey but died before 2002 survey. The sixth component is for the information collected in the 2005 survey for 1,052 respondents who were re-interviewed in 2000, 2002, and 2005. The last component contains information collected from the next-of-kin of 1,308 respondents who were interviewed in all previous three waves but died before the 2005 wave. There were 894 respondents lost to follow-up in the 2000 survey, 585 respondents lost to follow-up in the 2002 survey, and 284 respondents lost to follow in the 2005 survey. This dataset is called the 1998-2005 longitudinal dataset. It presents both static and seven-year interval dynamic information for the respondents who were first interviewed in 1998.
2. Variables and the code system in this data set are based on questions in the individual questionnaire in the 1998 baseline survey, questions without dark shadow in the individual questionnaire in the 2000, 2002, and 2005 follow-up surveys, and questions in the questionnaire for the deceased person in the 2000, 2002, and 2005 follow-up surveys. The names of variables and the code system in this dataset, however, are not necessarily all the same as those in the corresponding questionnaires. Some are slightly different. Please use this coding system when performing analysis, and regard the questionnaire as basic references.
3. In the code system, 'Write Format: F3', for example, means that the length of the code of the variable is 3 digits without decimal points, while 'Write Format: F8.6' represents the length of the code of the variable is 8 digits with 6 digits after the decimal point. The latter format (with a decimal point) is used for weights.
4. All variables are treated as 'Numeric' ones in this data set. Variables such as age, year, month, number of persons, and number of days are treated as 'Scale' type. Most of the remaining variables are treated as 'Nominal' ones including 'yes' or 'no' binominal questions. Variables in Part B, variables related to ADL, IADL functioning capacity in Part E, and some variables in Part D in the surviving individual questionnaires are treated as 'Ordinal' ones. ADL functioning before dying for the deceased persons are also treated as 'Ordinal' variables. More detailed information could be found in the 'measurement level' in the code system.
5. A variable with 'R' as the first letter in the name of the variable is a variable that indicates whether the question was answered personally by the respondent or was answered by a proxy.
6. Variables with names '_0', '_2', and '_5' as their suffix are for those who were still alive and re-interviewed in 2000, 2002, and 2005 respectively, while variables with names 'd0', 'd2', and 'd5' as their prefix are variables for those deceased respondents who died in the survey intervals 1998-2000, 2000-2002, and 2002-2005, respectively.
7. Variables f33_0 (i.e., question f33 in the 2000 individual questionnaire) and f32_2 (i.e., question f32 in the 2002 individual questionnaire) in this dataset don't have value labels since they are multiple-choices questions. Please refer to the corresponding questionnaires for details. Users need to use some syntaxes or commands to de-code it before using it.
8. The variable labels of variables of g3 and g4 in 1998 are different from those in the 1998 questionnaire in order to keep consistency with those in later waves.
9. '-6' is used to indicate that the variable is used for surviving persons ONLY and is NOT applicable to the deceased persons. '-7' is used to indicate that the variable is used for the deceased persons ONLY and is NOT applicable to the surviving respondents. '-8' is used to indicate that the respondents were dead or lost to follow-up in an earlier wave, and '-9' is used to define lost to follow-up. '-1' is used in this dataset to indicate a situation in which the question is NOT applicable to the respondent. '9', '99', '999', and '9999' are usually used to represent missing information in different variables, while ‘8’, ‘88’, ‘888’, and ‘8888’ in most cases (but NOT all cases) are used to indicate situations in which the respondent didn’t know the answers to the questions. The missing values indicated by ‘8’, ‘88’, ‘888’, ‘8888’, ‘9’, ‘99’, ‘999’, and ‘9999’ need to be imputed by the user before doing the analysis, especially when the proportion of ‘missing’ or ‘don’t know’ is larger than 5%. The data sets with imputed values to replace the missing data are not currently available.

10. Five variables in this dataset are non-survey variables. Three of them (dth98_00, dth00_02, and dth0_05) indicate survival status in 2000, 2002, and 2005 surveys (i.e., surviving, dead, lost to follow-up). The fourth one (year9899) indicates the year of the interview of the baseline survey (Note: some of questionnaire was collected in 1999). The fifth variable is “w_1998” (see Note 13).
11. Variable indicating administrative location (i.e., respondent from which county in which province) and variable indicating sibling pairs in 1998, 2000, 2002, and 2005 waves are NOT included in this released data set. They are available upon request, however.
12. Attention should be given to time varying variables. The information gathered in 1998 baseline survey (e.g., number of marriage, information of the last marriage) subject to change.
13. The weight variable “w_1998” is estimated based on the estimated numbers of oldest old persons by age, sex, and rural/urban residence in 1998 derived from 2000 census 100% data tabulations for the 22 provinces where the 1998 survey was conducted. The total number of the weighted individual cases of the survey is equal to the total sample size. However, the numbers of the weighted individual cases for the age-sex-residence-specific groups may not be exactly the same as the actual sub-sample size of the corresponding groups. Thus, SPSS, SAS, STATA (or other software) would not produce correct p-values for testing the statistical significance of the differences of the average proportions across different age-sex-reference groups, since the sub-sample size of the sub-groups may be altered after weighting the individual cases. Therefore, the weights need to be appropriately adjusted to ensure that the sub-sample size within each sub-group after weighting is exactly the same as the true sub-sample size for the cross sub-groups comparisons by using statistical significant test. Such adjusted weights are available upon request. Please refer to Zeng and Vaupel et al. (2001: Appendix A) for details on how the weights and the adjusted weights are computed. Weight is not applied to those respondents aged less than 80 or more than 106 at their first interviews.
14. The eligible respondents of this dataset are those people aged 80 and over. There are a very few respondents in this data set whose age was less than 80 at the baseline survey, however. It’s recommended to exclude the respondents who were less than 80 years old if the analysis is focused on the oldest old since they had not reached the oldest old age (80+) at the survey time.
15. For the data quality of this dataset, please refer to Gu (2008), Gu and Dupre (2008), and Zeng and Gu (2008).
16. This dataset can be in either SPSS, SAS, STATA, or ASCII format. Please contact Dr. Gu Danan to indicate which format you prefer.
17. This codebook is produced by SPSS 15.0.
18. This is the released Version 1.0 for the 1998-2005 longitudinal dataset. It is highly appreciated to offer us your comments or found errors for us, which is so important for the improvement of this dataset in the future.
